Lawrie Rash, who holds a B.F.A. in design from the University of Memphis, opened Ken Rash's in Little Rock in 1992 and has participated in every Symphony Designer House since. "I encourage clients to push out of their comfort zone a little when working on their outdoor area because it's like your own private retreat," she says. "Make it more fun, more exotic, more contemporary. Make it a vacation at your own home." She loves working with outdoor rooms because the beauty of nature is your backdrop, and the veranda of Duet I allowed her to implement more festive and exotic styles. In the space, she used potted arrangements by Chris Olsen of Botanica Gardens with teak sectional seating by Gloster for its "wonderful flexibility and contemporary styling." Lawrie gives a special thanks to Linda Chandler.

With a strong belief in the combination of function, creativity and style, Shayla Copas has honed her skills as a commercial and residential decorator. Ken Kimberling works diligently to combine bold and sleek elements with soft and welcoming touches. In the master bedroom, they joined forces and carefully selected high-end textiles from Beacon Hill and Kravet for the custom bedding and window treatments made by Angel Threads. As the centerpiece of the bedroom, the headboard is upholstered in faux white polar mink for a touch of Hollywood glamour, especially when combined with the Schonbek Swarovski crystal chandelier from TEC Electric. Special thanks to Jerry Davis Photography, Tipton Hurst, Alyson Jon of Houston, Orb Painting, HomeIronix, Angela Moore of Angel Threads, Amy Hill Imler and Melody Stanley of Red Door Gallery, TEC Electric, Brooke Vines of Vines Media, Sandy Hubler of The Showroom, Burl Elkin's Upholstery, Larry's Inc., mertinsdykehome, Bear-Hill Interiors, Pazzaz, Cleo's West, Kerry Allen of Colours, Stephano's, Powder & Smoke, About Vase, Melinda Markus and the Designer House Co-Chairs.
